The Leadership Perspective

- Warren Evans

Join trends analyst and business growth expert Warren Evans in this session designed specifically for those in the executive leadership role and who are responsible for contributing to their organization's strategic direction. Participants will have the chance to explore with Warren the evolving leadership challenges and opportunities that they are facing. Having returned from his most recent speaking tours in Asia/Pacific and Europe, Evans will provide commentary on the leadership priorities he sees being particularly effective in this economic climate and discuss the implications for leaders. There will also be opportunity for Q & A.

How to Lead Under Pressure and Get Results

- Jill Proud

As any senior leader knows, keeping your team going in the same direction in times of change, uncertainty and pressure is like rowing with one oar. You are going nowhere fast. Leading under pressure is challenging. As the head of an organization the kind of conversations you engage people in is a measure of your effectiveness and ultimately the success of you and your team. Regardless of what you are attempting to manage - vision, attitudes, performance or behaviours - all leaders have to be prepared to have real conversations. In this session we explore how to leverage real conversations to remove blocks and build ownership.

Moving to an Individualized Support Model - Part 1

- Xavier Noordermeer & Marg McLean

As our sector transforms, there will be opportunities for individuals to choose individualized settings for supported living. Agencies may be asked to support individuals in their own homes, and to develop partnerships with people and their families and communities in new ways. Community Living St Marys and Community Living Windsor are two agencies at different stages of providing individualized support to people with flexible, portable supports. Marg McLean and Xavier Noordermeer will share their experiences, successes and lessons learned and dispel some of the myths that have become perceived barriers to successful implementation of this model.

Program Review Findings - Provincial Cross Section

- Paul Muldoon

Join consultant/trainer, Paul Muldoon, as he shares the trends he has observed over the past 12-18 months as a result of formal review of several residential programs, day services and SIL operations across several regions of the province. (based on 8 separate review exercises conducted over the past 24 months) The themes to be addressed will include:

- Major trends Observed in each of the three categories
- Lessons Learned regarding Leadership, Management/Supervision and Front line delivery
- Change/Evolution in these areas into the future
- Challenges Facing these Programs

12:00 p.m. - 2:45 p.m.

Lunch (sponsored by Altus Dynamics)

Georgian Bay Ballroom

1:15 p.m. - 2:45 p.m.

Keynote Speaker - Peter Jensen - Igniting the Third Factor Georgian Bay Ballroom
Bringing out the best in someone is the biggest challenge faced by business leaders, coaches and parents. In 30 years of work with Olympic coaches and corporate executives across North America, Dr. Peter Jensen has observed that those who focus squarely on Igniting the Third Factor in themselves and others consistently:

- Outperform their peers
- Win the war for talent
- Accomplish more with their existing teams
- Create and maintain strong networks of allies in their organizations.

Through real-life examples Peter teaches practical, insightful strategies for inspiring high performance.

Session 2 - 2:45 p.m. - 3:45 p.m.

Building the Future - Succession Planning

- Terry MacMillan & Bill Silk

With over 85% of Simcoe Community Services Management team positioned for retirement by the year 2013, Simcoe Community Services quickly prioritized the need to prepare its' agency for the leadership transition it was about to embark upon. Join Terry MacMillan, Executive Director and Bill Silk, Human Resources Director, in a review of Succession Planning and Management best practices, tips, lessons learned, and practical steps towards building agency benchstrength and continuously developing leadership talent from within.

Bullying in the Workplace

- Chris Hinkle

A safe and healthy workplace cannot exist where bullying is allowed to flourish. Increase your awareness and understanding of workplace bullying as a hazard to the health and safety of workers, and learn what can be done to reduce this risk. Explore the impact of bullying on the working environment, the cost/benefit ratio of prevention, and what can be done to make your workplace a healthier environment.

Moving to an Individualized Support Model - Part II

- Xavier Noordermeer & Marg McLean

This session is a continuation of the 11:00 a.m. session regarding flexible, portable services supporting people in their own homes. Xavier Noordermeer and Marg McLean continue to share their experiences, successes and lessons learned, and dispel some of the myths that have become perceived barriers to successful implementation of this model.

Automated Scheduling - Time and Attendance

- Wendy Svistunenko
